

RegenDays Sofia

Hélder Moura

- THEME

Complex cases in implantology: The benefits of mucogengival approach

Abstract:

Clinicians are facing an increasing number of complex treatments combined with patient's high expectations.

Today one of the major considerations for implant therapy is to achieve aesthetics results that are in harmony with the surrounding tissues challenged by the attempt of building a great architecture and bone regeneration. We're going to show you several cases that represent our daily challenges and how we approach them.